

General instructions*Filing requirements

A fiduciary for a resident estate or trust, or a fiduciary for a nonresident estate or trust which derives income from North Dakota sources, must file Form 38, North Dakota Fiduciary Income Tax Return, if required to file Federal Form 1041.

Resident estate or trust. A fiduciary for a resident estate or trust is generally subject to the same law provisions which apply to a resident individual. The entire income (loss) of a resident estate or trust must be reported to North Dakota.

Nonresident estate or trust. A fiduciary for a nonresident estate or trust is generally subject to the same law provisions which apply to a nonresident individual. Only the portion of the nonresident estate's or trust's income (loss) derived from North Dakota sources must be reported to North Dakota.

Employer identification number. For North Dakota purposes, use the same employer identification number used on the federal return.

Signature. The fiduciary or an authorized representative of the fiduciary must sign the return. If a person other than the fiduciary is paid to prepare the return, the paid preparer must also sign the return.

Which schedule to use. Either Schedule 1 (Short Method) or Schedule 2 (Long Method) may be used to calculate the tax. The two methods will yield different results, so it is recommended that the tax be calculated under both methods. Use the method showing the lowest tax.

When to file and pay

A return for the calendar year 2000 must be filed on or before April 15, 2001. A return filed on a fiscal year basis must be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the end of the fiscal year. If the due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, the return is due on the next business day. Tax due on the return must be paid in full with the return.

Extension of time to file. If an extension of time to file the federal fiduciary income tax return is obtained, it will be recognized by North Dakota. Or, if a federal extension isn't needed, a separate North Dakota extension may be applied for using Form F-101. The North Dakota extension is not automatic—there must be good cause to request one. Apply early enough to obtain approval prior to the due date of the return. At the time Form 38 is filed, check the extension box at the top of Form 38 and attach a copy of the federal extension form or the approved state extension, whichever one applies. If there is tax due on the return, interest is charged at the rate of 12% per year from the original due date of the return to the earlier of the extended due date or the date the tax due is paid.

Where to file and pay

Form 38 must be filed with the Office of State Tax Commissioner, State Capitol, 600 E. Blvd. Ave., Bismarck, North Dakota 58505-0599. Make the check or money order payable to "State Tax Commissioner."

Penalty and interest. By law, penalty and interest must be charged on a late payment of tax. The penalty is 5% of the late payment (with a minimum of $5.00). In addition, interest on the late payment is charged at the rate of 1% per month or a fraction of a month (except for the month in which the tax was due) until the tax due is paid.

Estimated income tax

A fiduciary may have to pay estimated North Dakota income tax for 2001 if both of the following apply:

1. The fiduciary is required to pay estimated federal income tax for 2001.
2. The fiduciary's net tax liability for 2000, and the estimated balance due (after withholding but before estimated tax is subtracted) for 2001, is $200 or more. (If no return is required to be filed for 2000, no estimated tax payments are required for 2001.)

If both of the above apply, obtain North Dakota Form 401-ES to determine the amount of estimated tax, if any, that must be paid, and for when and how to pay the estimated tax.

Beneficiaries

A beneficiary of an estate or trust that is required to file Form 38 may be required to file a North Dakota income tax return to report the income (loss) distributed or distributable to the beneficiary.

Resident individual. A resident individual must report to North Dakota his or her entire share of income (loss) from any estate or trust, as determined for federal income tax purposes.

Nonresident individual. A nonresident individual must report to North Dakota the portion of the income (loss) from an estate or trust that is derived from North Dakota sources. This includes the same kinds of income (losses) that would be reportable to North Dakota had the nonresident individual derived them directly from the North Dakota sources.

Other entities. If a beneficiary is a corporation, partnership, or other type of entity, see the instructions to the applicable North Dakota income tax return for filing and reporting requirements.

Information returns

Every fiduciary having a requirement to file a Federal Form 1099 or a Federal Form W-2 must also file one with North Dakota. For details, obtain the Income Tax Guideline: Information Returns.

Amended returns

Check the "Amended return" box at the top of Form 38 if it is being filed to correct a previously filed Form 38. If an amended Federal Form 1041 is filed or the Internal Revenue Service makes changes to Federal Form 1041, an amended Form 38 must be filed within ninety days after filing the amended federal return or within ninety days after the final determination of the IRS changes.

The North Dakota income (loss) of a nonresident estate or trust is generally calculated in the same manner as for a resident estate or trust, except that only the income, deductions, and other adjustments attributable to North Dakota are taken into account. Itemized deductions, such as interest, taxes, and fiduciary fees, etc., are to be attributed to North Dakota based on the ratio of North Dakota income to total federal income.
- For a nonresident estate or trust, the federal income tax that may be deducted is determined in the same manner as for a resident estate or trust (see line 8), with the following modifications:
- Do not include the federal foreign tax credit; and,

- Multiply the total allowable federal income tax by the ratio of North Dakota income to total federal income to determine the deductible portion.

Attach a statement showing how the North Dakota income (loss) was calculated.

Line 15

For North Dakota purposes, this is based on the amount distributed or distributable for federal income tax purposes. Specific line instructions for Schedule 3

Schedule 3 must be completed to identify all beneficiaries of the estate or trust and show the beneficiaries' respective shares of North Dakota income (loss). If additional lines are needed, attach a separate statement.

Except for nonresident individual, estate or trust beneficiaries, the amount of income (loss) to be reported to North Dakota by a beneficiary may differ from the amount reported on Schedule 3. Resident individual, estate and trust beneficiaries are subject to North Dakota income tax on their entire share of income, gains and losses, as determined for federal income tax purposes. For corporation, partnership and limited liability company beneficiaries, special rules apply for determining the amount of income (loss) taxable by North Dakota. Contact the Office of State Tax Commissioner for more information.

If a beneficiary's share of income (loss) reported on Schedule 3 includes interest from U.S. obligations or other securities exempt from state income tax under federal law (including dividends from a mutual fund attributable to investments by the mutual fund in the same kinds of securities), a statement on which the specific securities are identified must be attached to Form 38. In the case of dividends from a mutual fund, the statement must show the name of the fund, the identity of the qualifying securities, and the percentage of income derived from the qualifying securities. This statement is not required if the required information is provided on the federal return that is attached to Form 38. In addition, if a beneficiary is required to file a North Dakota tax return, the beneficiary will be required to attach a similar statement to the North Dakota tax return; therefore, the fiduciary should also provide this information to the beneficiary.

Specific line instructions for Schedule 4

An estate or trust may be eligible for a credit for income tax paid to another state if both of the following apply:

1. It is a resident estate or trust.
2. The estate or trust paid income tax to another state on part or all of the same income that is reported to North Dakota for the year. For this purpose, "state" means any of the fifty U.S. states, the District of Columbia, or a territory of the U.S.

The credit is available only if an income tax return is filed with the other state on which an income tax is computed and paid. No credit is allowed based on the amount of the other state's income tax withheld from wages, nor on the amount of estimated tax paid to the other state.

A copy of the other state's income tax return must be attached to Form 38 to obtain the credit.

Payment of income tax to more than one state. If income tax is paid to more than one other state on income that is also reported to North Dakota for the year, a separate Schedule 4 must be completed for each state.

Line 2

Enter the portion of the fiduciary's federal income (on line 1 of Schedule 4) that is reportable to the other state. Disregard any adjustment to the fiduciary's federal income required by the other state's law.

Line 6

Enter the amount of the income tax less any income tax credits (except withholding and estimated tax) as shown on the other state's income tax return.

Line 7

If more than one Schedule 4 is required to be completed, add the separately computed amounts on line 7 of each Schedule 4 and enter the result on line 11, page 1, Form 38.
